M15-305192	19-Aug-2015	BEHAVIOR	8/19/15-We reassessed this dog after his adoption return in regards to cats. We also did a dog introduction with Rocco (adult neutered male) and they did well with greeting. Neither one of them appreciated when the other one tried to mount one another. We introduced him to our shelter cat, Kuma, and he was mildly interested and sniffed at him and this solicited a meow from Kuma. When Kuma meowed the dog backed off and walked away. He continued to return to the cat and then walk away. He was respectful of the cat when the cat sent a signal to him. He walked away numerous times. Due to his continued interest, yet respect for the cat, I feel that the dog could go to a home with a extremely dog saavy cat, however the introduction must be on-leash and over about a week period of time. Even then his interest maybe too much for the cat. 570

M15-307795	14-Sep-2015	BEHAVIOR	Are you looking for Mr. Right? Hi, I am Amos and I am senior boy without a home. I want someone who will love me forever and will accept me for me. I want to do fun activities and I love going for walks. I love other dogs and I am kid-friendly but no kitties in my home, please. I am all around perfect. I would love to go to a training class to learn new things and create a strong bond with you. I am waiting to create an amazingly happy life together and a promising future with my new family. Come check me out today.
M15-312810	03-Nov-2015	BEHAVIOR	11/03/15 Per adopter, Amos is very affectionate when in the car, but as soon as is outside, all he wants to do is find, chase and kill cats (has killed a couple of cats in the past few weeks). He was on a fenced 1/4 acre. Per adopter, during the day, he would just walk the perimeter looking for a way out. He would dig and also pushed the fence until he compromised the T-post and then climb out of 6 ft wire fence and went over to adopter's in-laws and killed or treed several cats. Door dashes. Adopter tried to move him to a 20' x 30' smaller fenced area. That also had to be reinforced. Also tried to get rabbits, but didn't get through the wire cages before adopter got to him. Chased chickens. Would stalk adopter's cats through sliding door or fence. Knows sit, but no other commands. Rides well in car and is okay on the leash. Adopter's other dog wanted to play (FS Aussie), but Amos was not interested. Per adopter has lots of energy. mmp
M15-313593	12-Nov-2015	BEHAVIOR	11/12/15-We decided in our Behavior Meeting today that Amos Moses should be humanely euthanized due to his cat killing history. 570
